I can not believe that I am having to be here in the Great State of Michigan's capital Lansing today for such an occasion.

I find it hard to think that there are people who are convinced that evil is some how good and good is evil.

If you believe in God and follow His Son Jesus then you can not believe that sodomy is okay or can be accepted as normal behavior.

Gods Word is very clear on this lifestyle.

There is nothing normal about sodomy. It is a disease spreading perverted behavior that comes from satan himself. satan is the master of all that is evil.

No one is born this way. If that were the case then you are born to be a bank robber or rapist as well. This is not true. We become what society allows us to become. We are shaped by the things around us. It is from this we choose and make our choices as to what we do and do not do.

You can teach a child to strap on a bomb to kill people who they are taught are evil. You can teach a child that it is okay to have human sacrifice. You can also teach a child to fear their loving Father God and to follow Jesus. This is what made America so great for so long. It is easy to see that the farther we have drifted away from God as a society the worse things have become at all levels and factors of life in America and on Earth.

There is nothing modern about sodomy. It dates back to after satan was cast to the earth. Sodom and Gomorrah for example. The only thing modern might be the way some people choose to rewrite the Bible to suit their life choices. The Word never changes. God created man and women to be the family unit to have and raise children. Christians are not putting homosexuals or their children in a bad situation by standing on Gods Word. The homosexuals are choosing to do this to themselves and those around them.

Last , sex has nothing to do with race or civil rights. We are all protected equally in America by law. To give preference to anyone because of the way they choose to have sex is nuts. America was founded by God loving men and women. America can not survive without God. I urge all people to look at what has happened to America since we took God out of the schools. It has never been perfect , never will be , but it has been better.

God Bless and Amen !!
